

The Regional Outlook for NGLs and Petrochemical Projects

The Alberta government's incentive program is working to lure petrochemical companies to Canada, according to a natural resources research firm based in Houston, Texas. Wood Mackenzie senior vice-president of chemicals, Stephen Zinger, says although Canada has higher capital startup expense costs and a carbon tax, in Alberta those are offset by the government's recent petrochemical incentives. How does US Petrochemical Competition square up vrs Eastern Canada vrs Western Canada and what is the opportunity for Canadian NGLs?

Join us for a PJVA presentation by Gerry Goobie, Principal at Goobie Tulk Inc. on September 13th at 11:15am to 1:00pm at the Calgary Petroleum Club discussing "The Regional Outlook for NGLs and Petrochemical Projects"

Tickets $50.00 (+GST) for CAPL members and $60.00 (+GST) for non-members

Go to <https://securegs.com/registerEvents.php?eID=5473> to Register